226 Glacier Mountaineering

Not offered 2020-21

2 credits

The goal of this course is to learn the basics of glacier travel and mountaineering so that the participant becomes a competent group member capable of participating in trips with other skilled individuals. Some of the skills that will be covered include: knots and rope handling, belaying, protection placement and anchor building, hazard evaluation, ice axe use, self arrest, technical snow and ice climbing, crampon use, snow and ice anchors, fourth class climbing techniques, peak ascents, roped glacier travel, crevasse rescue, fixed line ascension & snow camping techniques. The primary class requirement is participation in the class weekend trips. This course is limited to 9 students for risk management and permitting reasons. Offered every other year. Prerequisite: SSRA 137, 138, 237, 238, 248, or 338 or consent of instructor. Fee: $500, includes 3 full weekend trips.

242 Wilderness First Responder

Spring

Riley and Sheedy

2 credits

This Wilderness First Responder course is a nationally recognized course that trains participants to respond to emergencies in remote settings. The 80-hour curriculum includes standards for urban and extended care situations. Special topics include but are not limited to wound management and infection, realigning fractures and dislocations, improvised splinting techniques, patient monitoring and long-term management problems, plus up-to-date information on all environmental emergencies along with advice on drug therapies. Emphasis is placed on prevention and decision making, not the memorization of lists. Upon successful completion of practical and written exams a two-year WMI of NOLS Wilderness First Responder certification and a two-year Adult Heartsaver CPR certification will be issued. Graded credit/no credit. Sections A: Jan. 8-Jan. 17, 2021; Section B: March 13-March 22, 2021. Fee: $675.

244 Swift Water Rescue

Fall

S. Chapin

1 credit

The course is intended for guides, recreational kayakers and rafters and other river professionals. This course will combine skills from Lifeguard training, kayak instructor training, raft guide training and skills outlined by the ACA (American Canoe Association) and NOLS (National Outdoor Leadership school). The goal is to foster increased safety through the development of skills, knowledge and experience. This course will create a theoretical and practical experience that will enable boaters to be better prepared and equipped as a rescuer in the swift water environment. Classroom sessions will be complemented by practical "on water" exercises. The course will focus on throw ropes, safety vests, foot entrapment/ vertical pin scenarios, knots, anchors, mechanical advantage systems (i.e. z-drags and pig rigs), the reach system, as well as wading rescues, boat based rescue (kayak/raft), and other related theories and ideas. Graded credit/no credit. Fee: $300.

248 Climbing Wall Instructor

Fall

Sheedy

1 credit

This course provides instructors and potential instructors with an in-depth and standardized understanding of the skills essential to teaching climbing in an indoor setting. It is the first step in a sequential approach to professional climbing instructor development. The course reinforces the importance of teaching technically accurate information and debunks many common climbing myths. The course emphasizes the presentation of sound fundamental skills to climbing gym participants, the use of deliberate and effective instructional methods, the formation of risk assessment and risk management skills and basic problem-solving skills such as belay transitions and on-wall coaching and assist techniques. Participants will be assessed on both their core knowledge and their ability to effectively teach and coach related skills. Graded credit/no credit. Fee: $200.

206 ST: Sports, Social Justice and Facilitation

Fall

Hein and Witherspoon

2 credits

As a society, we have witnessed an interesting relationship between sports and social justice. The provocative relationship between these entities played out publicly for college-level and professional athletes, but rarely do we create a space for dialogue at the intersection of sports and Social Justice. This course is designed to give students a foundation for effective intergroup dialogue and facilitation. Course instructors have been trained in intergroup dialogue pedagogy, a model that brings together students from different social identity groups to develop critical dialogic skills through guided practice. Students will discuss relevant reading material, videos, and lived experiences as a base for conversation and community development. Students will learn and engage with the four-stage model of intergroup dialogue: “Stage 1: Getting Acquainted Stage 2: Exploring Similarities and Differences in Experiences Stage 3: Engaging “Hot” Topics Stage 4: Action Planning”. Students will utilize this framework to examine sports movements and sports team culture at all levels through the lens of social justice. Distribution area: None.
